Bert Fernald Elected Governor By 8000 Majority

Largest Vote For Years And Many Surprises Sprung---Prohibition Sheriff in York County

All Of The Congressmen Elected But By Greatly Reduced Majorities---Ten Cities Go Democratic

The republicans carried the state of Maine on Monday in one of the most interesting elections held in that state for many years. Bert M. Fernald was elected governor by a less than 8000 majority, and all of the republican congressmen were elected by a greatly reduced majority. Ten out of twenty cities were democratic by a large majority, by a somewhat reduced majority and for sheriff, over which there has been a big fight waged. Emery of Sanford, the democrat and prohibition candidate was elected over Mower, Republican candidate, by a little over 400 votes. The remainder of the county ticket was elected by the republicans but in many cases by greatly reduced majorities. There were some big changes in the votes of towns. Sanford going republican by big majority, but gave Emery 558 majority.

The vote all through the state was the largest since 1888, and as near as could be estimated at midnight was over 140,000 or ten thousand more than two years ago. The democrats made big gains all through the eastern part of the state where Gardner was a great favorite. This was overcome however by the heavy vote brought out by the republicans in the western part of the state and the vote in Portland helped in this respect, where Fernald had over a thousand majority. Lewiston went democratic by 1500 majority, an increase of a thousand over two years ago, but the small towns as a rule kept to their old party and while the democrats made big gains in all of the towns it was more than overcompensated by the big vote brought out by the republicans.

In Portland the vote for governor was, Fernald 5999 Gardner 4994. The democrats however carried the city for sheriff but the vote of the re-

A Few Legislative Candidates Have Hope That Springs Eternal

The Democrats are now hunting around to find some good candidates to represent the city in the legislature if they can get the nomination and election.

They are also hunting up some strong candidates to bring before the county convention.

Up to date the following men are mentioned as possible representative nominees:

Ward One--General C. B. Hoyt, William Badger, Daniel J. Collins, William A. Badger.

In Ward Two there is quite an aggregation to select from and when the party say they will name some good men. Among the many available men they are mentioning Samuel W. Emery, Jr., John Parsons, Robert J. Kirkpatrick, Frederick Gardner, John T. Sheehan, J. Edward Pickering, William J. Mott and Richard Cooney.

Up in the West End, Ward Three, James T. Whitman, John W. Caswell, Timothy Donovan and Stanton

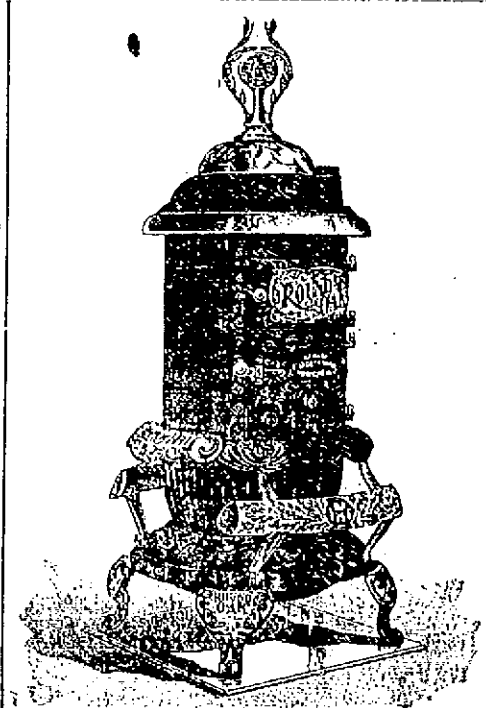

Trueman make up the list of those who are considered winners placed in the field.

Ward Four has settled the question in naming the old war horse, "Billy" Gardner, to lead in the fight and Billy says he will be on the battlefield all the time commencing the minute he is formally named for the place.

In the fighting ward there is a large list to pick from. It includes W. A. A. Cullen, William Phinney, William Alley, Edward Russell and Edward J. Moulton.

For the place of sheriff, John Locke of Rye, a former alderman of Ward One, is out to the honor, contesting with George D. Macey, former mayor, and John W. York of Kensington.

There is great interest in picking three men for county commissioners. So far we hear the names of ex-alderman Clarence H. Paul, Thomas Smith of Exeter, John W. Caswell, Charles Badger and James Drew of Newington.

CHINAMAN AND POLE IN POLICE COURT

Restaurant Rumpus and Revolver Firing Come Before Judge

The longest session of police court that has been held for several days was provided over by Judge Simms today, although only three cases were heard before the tribunal.

The first case, which was a mixup in the Chinese eating house on Daniel street, took up most of the forenoon before the court rendered its decision. Herbert Parker was arraigned for an assault on Wong Lok and Wong was charged with returning the same to Parker.

The fight occurred on Monday forenoon when Parker claimed that he went there for something to eat and heard insulting remarks made by Wong Lok to the waitress, Miss Teresa Slaney, that he went to defend her and three Chinamen plugged dishes at him right and left.

The lady in the case said Wong followed Parker with a big knife or cleaver and as he was passing out the door struck him with the back side across the leg.

Officer Shannon, who made the arrest, testified that he knew nothing about the affray but when he got there the doorway was covered with broken dishes and Wong had the appearance of having been in a fight.

The court ordered Lok to pay costs of $7.67 and Parker deposited $6.50.

Said He Would Kill Him
Antone Kaminsky, a Polish resident, was next heard. He was charged with an assault with intent to kill. The plaintiff was George Corbett, who testified that Kaminsky shot at him with a gun on Ocean road last Sunday and said he would kill him. Counsel for Kaminsky wanted more time on the case to summon more witnesses and the hearing was continued until Wednesday morning at nine o'clock.

Charlie Sing Discharged
Charlie Sing, proprietor of the chop suey market, was arraigned, charged with conducting a disorderly house. He was discharged.

GOVERNOR HUGHES

Republican Convention Almost Sure to Place Him at the Head of Ticket

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 15.—That Governor Charles E. Hughes will be renominated by the Republican State convention as the result of today's balloting became all but a certainty last night. Even anti-Hughes leaders, while publicly still determined, began to admit privately that it might even be done upon the first ballot. Opinions differ as to the effect of the renomination. This morning by authority of President Roosevelt of his belief that Governor Hughes should be renominated; it was the event of the morning and while not entirely unexpected, produced no small sensation. The general belief was that it was the first straw needed to turn the scales in the governor's favor.

Signs were many during the morning that the opposition to the governor's renomination was rather in pieces for lack of a man upon whom it could unite. One of the most experienced of the leaders, generally regarded as anti-Hughes, but proclaiming himself as merely an observer, said at noon:

"It is only a question of when the rush for the hand wagon will begin and how general it will be. Hughes will be nominated and it begins to look as if it would be upon the first ballot."

Another, himself one of the leading candidates for the governorship, said: "The Oyster Bay statement scare a lot of the fellows, and I guess the jig is up."

When ex-Governor Francis S. Black was made acquainted with President Roosevelt's declaration he said: "I am very glad. That means Hughes, doesn't it? I am pleased with any help, disclosures or communications of any kind that will bring about the renomination of Governor Hughes." Representative Serena E. Payne said: "I believe Mr. Hughes would have been nominated anyway. Mr. Roosevelt's statement will no doubt make Governor Hughes' nomination more certain."

State Committeeman Barnes of Albany, when shown the Oyster Bay dispatch handed it back to the reporter without comment.

One anti-Hughes man said: "Good. If this thing is going to be done I'm glad the responsibility will be placed just where it belongs."

When the last late light was extinguished in the United States Hotel Sunday night and anti-Hughes leaders, weary with the struggle of the day, gave up for the night, the effort to prevent the renomination of Governor Hughes by the Republican State convention was merely suspended and the opening hours Monday found the anti-Hughes forces ready to renew the dogged fight to accomplish his defeat. The convention was called to convene in the great convention hall on Broadway at 3 P. M., and the delegates arriving in full force on early trains found a very difficult situation awaiting solution.

It is doubtful whether a precise parallel of the circumstances can be found in recent political history in this State. The strength of the force behind the movement for the renomination of the governor is of unknown potentialities. His forces are unorganized, all but leadership and seemingly without any visible centre about which or whom to rally. On the other hand, it is declared by those seeking to accomplish his defeat that a very large majority of the delegates are opposed to his renomination and that leaders of the opposition include some of the most influential of the county chieftains. Even the most enthusiastic advocates of the governor's renomination admitted early today that the delegates opposed to him could easily defeat him if they could be brought to unite upon any other candidate.

The search for such a candidate taxed the resources of the opposition throughout the day Sunday, and lasted far into the night. Such names as those of Secretary of State Elihu Root, Joseph H. Choate, Seth Low and General Horace Porter had been canvassed, but for one reason and another all had been discarded and the opening of Monday found the search still in progress and with apparently decreasing prospects of success.

The anti-Hughes leaders still professed confidence, but it was one of the most astute of the anti-Hughes leaders who made an independent canvass of individual delegates and early today gave out a tabulation of actual individual delegates showing a minimum strength for Hughes of 323, whereas the most computed to him in the calculations of yesterday was under 200. This anti-Hughes leader said: "I have no confidence in the success of our efforts, or in the figures upon which we have been

Eat What You Want

And let Kodol digest it.

There can then be no fermentation, no pain, no distress—no indigestion.

Eat a sufficient amount of good, wholesome food every day. Eat what the appetite calls for. Let ease that is what the health and strength of the body require.

Then don't worry about indigestion or dyspepsia; but take Kodol occasionally—at the times when you need it, and your food will be digested completely. But don't diet and don't deny yourself the food you like, for dieting is unnecessary; it is wrong to be hungry.

Food is fuel for the body. It furnishes blood, bone, health and strength; but it must be digested first, and you are not going to be healthy or strong as long as your stomach fails to do its work.

Don't fear to eat the food you like for as you know the body requires a variety of it and that which you don't eat may be the very thing you need to supply the necessary strength for your body.

We say eat what you want and let Kodol digest it. Nor do you have to take Kodol all the time; you wouldn't want to have to take it all the time. Take it just when you need it, and in that way allow it to help the stomach to get strong and well.

But when you do eat what you want, and what you like best, be sure that all the food is digested; you must be sure that the stomach is able to digest it.

Else that portion of the food, which remains in the stomach undigested, irritates the stomach lining, and that is what causes pain. Then again undigested food ferments in the stomach and that is what causes sour risings, gas and belching.

These are the things you have to get rid of but you can't do it by starving yourself. Weakening the body is not strengthening the stomach. Yet you do weaken the body when you deny yourself some article of food you had does not agree with you.

And here is where Kodol is so effective. It digests what you eat and does it completely. It enables you to eat just what you like and just what your appetite demands.

Kodol doesn't simply digest certain kinds of food—it digests every kind of food. It acts as Nature acts and it assists Nature in assimilating the food—it helps Nature get out of the food what there is in it—strength, blood, bone, muscle and life.

Kodol is for you. Kodol is for anyone and everyone who needs it, and we want you to try it now and be convinced that you can eat just what you like if you will only let Kodol digest for a time that which you do eat.

TWO NEW PRIESTS

Ordination Is to Take Place This Week at Cathedral in Manchester

Jeremiah Buckley of Winton and Charles Ledy of Epping, young men who have been studying for the Manchester diocese, will be ordained to the priesthood Saturday morning at 9.30 o'clock at St. Joseph's cathedral by Bishop Guerin.

On Friday morning at 7.30 o'clock Mr. Ledy will be ordained deacon at the cathedral.

Both young men entered upon a retreat last evening at St. John's Seminary, Brighton, Mass.

Mr. Buckley will go to Rome to study foreign languages. He made his seminary course in the Grand Seminary at Montreal. Mr. Ledy made his philosophy and theological studies at St. John's Seminary, Brighton.

Both young men are to be ordained ahead of their time, which would have expired at Christmas.

THE VETERANS

Their ranks are sadly thinning as the seasons pass away—The mighty hosts that battled that the Union should hold sway; Each annual encampment shows how many noble souls

Who fought their country's battles are thus stricken from the rolls. Of tens on tens of thousands who survived the "great war." The numbers passing onward where the silent legions are.

Alas! are very many, for even heroes must obey

The summons that shall come to those of meager clay.

The camping on the sodden ground the vigil in the trench, The dreadful carnage that would make the bravest often bleed, The weary march in hunger—thirst, with sore and bleeding feet,

The panic—fright, that oft became glorious defeat;

The stubborn fight, when inch by inch the rebel ranks gave way— And women never more bravely fought, as records tell, than they—

All these were borne with fortitude by those who did survive The shambles in the awful years '64 to '65.

These scenes of forty years and more their memories renew. They fight those battles o'er again and these campaigns review When they as loyal comrades meet in G. A. R. array:

The heroes then are heroes still, though fading, old and gray! And Pennsylvania is recalled, and Shiloh and Bull Run.

And many other battles that the Union lost or won; While episodes of the foray, the camp, the march, the field,

Are, in the retrospective talk, amusingly revealed.

All honor to the veterans, for theirs is glory's crown,

Who rallied at their country's call and fought Secession down, And who emancipation brought the Negro in his chains,

And out of chaos there evolved a Nation, which to oppose The basest disintegration of our country, which arose

Triumphant, by their efforts brave, from out her bath of blood Refulgent and as beautiful as Venus from the flood!

Baldwin and Saco went democratic as did Dayton and South Berwick, which means a democrat gain in the representatives from York county to which York adds another democrat. In Kittery and Eliot, C. HENRY C. COLE MISSING
FROM HOME IN ELIOTHas Not Been Seen Since Sunday And Is Thought To Have Been Drowned

Henry C. Cole of Eliot, one of the older residents of the town, has missing from his home since Sunday night and his family are convinced that he has been drowned.

Cole was out fishing with a party of friends on Sunday, and they did not return until late in the evening. He was landed from the boat at the floating stage near his home and the other parties rowed off. That was the last seen of him, and it is the general belief that he lost his footing or became confused and fell into the river which runs strong at this point and was drowned.

He is a man who never stayed away from home over night, and when he failed to show up at midnight his family became worried. Early the next morning they started a search for him, but other than finding out that he had been landed at the floating stage nothing more was heard from him.

Late Monday afternoon the town authorities were asked to assist in the search, and some of his friends dragged the river about the stage, but with no results.

Mr. Cole was a man about sixty odd years of age and he has a family of ten children.

NAVY LEAGUE TO BREAK
WITH FEDERATION OF LABORLocal Branch Adopts Amendment To Constitution Which Has That Effect

A special meeting of the Navy League, No. 4, was held on Monday evening, to take action on an amendment to the constitution regarding the qualification of members. This is really nothing more than a breaking away from the stand that the League has taken toward the Federation of Labor. Up to this time the League have not allowed a man to become a member of the League, unless he is a member in good standing of his craft union and that union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Now the new amendment which was adopted by this branch of the League, makes the following qualification for membership:

"Any person of good moral character employed by the United States government in any navy yard, naval station, arsenal or gun factory, or upon any forts or fortifications adjacent to the United States, or registered for employment at the navy yards, shall be eligible for membership in this league."

There was some discussion over the matter but it resulted in a vote in favor of the amendment by a large majority. This means that if the national league adopts this measure, and it is likely, that the league will strike out for itself and not be asking favors of the Federation of Labor.

At the same meeting the following delegates were elected for the National Convention which will be held in Boston: Frank M. Cousins, Hugh F. Kelley and William T. Griffin.

SO DECEPTIVE

Many Portsmouth People Fail to Realize the Seriousness

Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing. Learn the cause—then cure it. Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Cure every kidney ailment from backache to diabetes. Here's a Portsmouth case to prove it.

S. H. McLean, living at 27 Union St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "My wife has used Doan's Kidney Pills for a good many years, and if they had not helped her she would not say they were the finest thing she ever used. A long illness brought on a lame back and a soreness around the kidneys that was sure to be worse if she caught cold. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Phillips' drug store relieved the trouble at once. She has had attacks of it since, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills soon make her feel all right again. She always keeps this remedy in the house as it is the best of all the many medicines she ever before used."

For sale by all dealers. Price 34 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Manual Training and Drawing Are Taught in Rooms At the High School Building

The enrollment for the Portsmouth schools, which opened on Monday, though not yet complete, shows a slight increase over that of last year. In the seventh grade at the Whipple school there is such an increase that Superintendent Ernest L. Silver expresses the opinion that it will be necessary to increase the teaching force. There are sixty-four pupils in that room.

Miss Florence Ham, principal, has thirteen new pupils in the training school, Misses Lola M. Worcester, Mary Smith, Marion Thomas, Marion L. Ham, Marion D. White, Elsie Whitner, Elsie B. Anderson, Rachel Cutts, Annie E. Knight, Elizabeth A. Adams, Marguerite Emery, Inez Gray, Marion E. Tilton.

The most notable innovation is the addition of courses in manual training, both of which will be taught by Percy A. Bridgman. The manual training quarters are the basement rooms in the high school building where the summer school was held.

The drawing lessons will be given in the attic of the same building.

A small party of scholars was in Superintendent Silver's office this morning, taking examinations on conditions imposed at the close of the last term in June, or on account of having been unable to take it at that time. A few are newcomers to the city.

PORTSMOUTH FIREMEN DID
GOOD WORK AT SAGO

The Portsmouth firemen returned at 12.51 o'clock from Saco after being gone from the city more than eleven hours.

When they arrived at Saco the fire was so well under control that they did not unload the apparatus taken from Portsmouth. The men did gallant work at fire fighting, relieving exhausted men and handling a Portland engine for several hours.

The fire began in the lumber yard of G. A. Crossman & Son, box manufacturers at No. 60 Market street, early today and swept with lightning-like rapidity through the tenement-house district.

Six hundred people are homeless, eighty-five tenement houses are in ruins and more than 5,000,000 feet of lumber, valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, have been destroyed in the worst fire for years in the history of Saco and Biddeford.

After an investigation of the fire Chief Chellis declared that it was probably started by a careless smoker, who probably lay down to sleep on the pile of shavings in the Crossman yard and threw a lighted match into the shavings or dropped his pipe.

It is said that George A. Batchelder, a clairvoyant and second sight artist, predicted three months ago that before the close of 1908 Saco would see the biggest conflagration in its history.

COAL DRIVERS GET
RAISE OF PAY

Good News Comes to One Group of Portsmouth Workmen

The coal team drivers of this city, members of Local Union No. 300, are feeling pretty happy today and their smiles are all due to the fact that they have been granted a substantial increase of wages in no way solicited on their part and comes to them voluntarily from their employers.

The firms which granted the increase are the Portsmouth Coal Company, Gray and Prime and Charles E. Walker.

The advance, coming as it did, was a genuine surprise to each and every one of the workmen many of whom have been in the service of these firms for years.

Neither the workmen or the firm managers would say as to the amount which will be found in their pay envelopes next Saturday night.

THREATENED BY CONFLAGRATION

Dangerous Fire Destroys Buildings in Town of York

Shortly after noon today the dwelling and barn of Warren Tower near the Rice bridge at York were completely destroyed by fire and the contents of both house and barn are a total loss. For some time it looked as if many of the other buildings nearby would take fire from the sparks and flames but were saved with much difficulty by the fire department and neighbors. The barn contained much hay and valuable stock but the stock was rescued.

The loss is said to be nearly $4000 and the origin of the fire is not known at present.
